TWO WEEKS UNTIL GRADUATION!

Everyone,

We are definitely on the countdown. Students are anxiously awaiting May 23rd - the Last Day of School. Seniors are thrilled about Graduation on May 24th at 7:00 p.m. at Dade County High School. Our students worked hard this year to see beyond the mountains.

At this time, I want to thank the many volunteers who give their time and talents to support our students. We appreciate our local businesses for their support as well. TOGETHER WE CLIMB is not just a motto...it is the truth in Dade County. Parents, educators and community members work as a team to help our students become mature, equipped citizens of character. We work to help prepare our students for college and/or career.

Our students appreciate your generous support, hard work, and dedication to their development, and it is on their behalf that I thank each of you today.

Please join me in sending our warm wishes to Coach Bradley Warren, Mrs. Allison Warren, and Taylor and Brett, as they begin their next chapter in McIntosh County. We thank Coach Warren for his dedication and leadership not only in the football arena, but in the total athletic program. Additionally, Mrs. Warren will be greatly missed at Dade Elementary.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Now is the time to make your hopes and dreams a reality. Coop Lumpkin, DCHS

Tuesday: DMS Band Banquet at DCHS at 6:00 p.m.

What I've learned after four years of high school is that school is not the most important factor. Your education is. School and education are two very different things. Focus on your education: your exploration of subjects and hobbies you personally take pride in, your developing perspectives, and your growth as an individual. Karen Zheng, DCHS

Wednesday: Meet Coach Pruitt on KWN TV's "Reading, Writing & Arithmetic" at 1:00 p.m.

High School was the best experience I've been through in my life. Make the absolute most of it. Study hard, but remember to go to and have fun. Go to all the school activities you can because that will create the fondest memories. Madison Rhoden, DCHS

Thursday: Instructional Rounds at Dade Elementary at 9:30 a.m., Play "The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee" at DCHS at 7:00 p.m.

Soak in the precious memories that you will make with your friends and teachers. Try hard in your classes and focus on where you want to go in life. Play sports, join clubs and go to school events because one day you will no longer have the opportunity. Never miss an opportunity to to make a memory. Abby Moore, DCHS

Friday: Dade Games: Special Olympics, Play "The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee" at DCHS at 7:00 p.m.

The joy of reading is found in the perfect book.....when you can't stop reading. You're up until 11 p.m. or later just reading. You lose yourself in the book. You cry and you laugh and you get frustrated. That is what good books do to people. The joy of reading overtakes them. Even people who say they hate reading always have that One Book. So, go out and find that One Book of yours. Sidney Jones, DMS

Saturday: GA Teacher of the Year (TOTY) Celebration - Dade County TOTY Heidi Wilson will be recognized. Congratulations, Mrs. Wilson! Play "The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee" at DCHS at 7:00 p.m.
